

What gives you energy? What drains you?

What's happening in the world around you?

What events, trends and technologies are shaping the world today and have the potential to change our future?